

Lot Draw Details

Phase 3D lot draw was held on May 26, 2011. As Phase 3D is the last residential phase in SunRidge, all residential lots draws for SunRidge have now been held.

How the Lot Draw Process Works

How does Lethbridge Land sell its residential lots?

When a new phase of a subdivision is introduced, new lots are usually offered by way of a "lot draw".

How do I know when you will hold the lot draw?

We'll advertise it:

- in the Lethbridge Herald
- on the City of Lethbridge website
- on this website

Our website is the most up-to-date source for upcoming lot draws and other exciting news. Check here often to stay well-informed of what's happening in any of our communities.

Can I register my name multiple times?

No, you can only make one registration per household and/or you may register a business if you are the owner of a registered business. Only one registration will be retained for the draw and other names will be disqualified.

Can I apply as an individual and as a company or contractor?

Yes, you can apply either as a Contractor/Business or as an Individual applicant, but to a maximum of two ballots.

Can anyone put their names in the lot draw?

Yes. Any individual, independent contractor or business can register for the lot draw, but only one entry can be made for each business or household.

How do I know it's fair?

In a lot draw, all registered names are placed in one drum and are publically selected at random. To ensure fairness and transparency, we randomly select a participant at the draw to step forward, mix the ballots and draw the names.

Who gets first pick at the lots?

The first name drawn chooses the first lot.

How do I know what lots are available in the draw?

Available lots and site maps can be found on our helpful interactive lot map.

Do I have to be present at the lot draw?

Yes, you do. If you are not present at the lot draw and your name is called, another name will be drawn in your place and you will have lost your opportunity to purchase a lot through us. You can still purchase from a builder, provided there are still lots available via that route.

If I'm a contractor and my name is drawn, do I have to provide you with any information about my business?

Yes. You will need to provide us with:

- a photocopy of your up-to-date business license (contractor's license)
- proof of membership with a new home warranty program that is accepted by CMHC

How do I apply for the lot draw?

Bring in your completed registration form along with proof of identification to register for the draw. This must be done no later than ONE DAY before the draw

How do I choose my lot if I'm successful in the lot draw?

If your name is drawn, you will

- choose your lot right then and there
- fill out a cheque for 10%
- provide us with your contact information

One week later, you will need to come in to sign the offer to purchase.

To expedite the process, we suggest that you come prepared with your lots ordered from most to least desirable.

What are the general terms of sale on lot selection day?

The terms you will agree to on lot selection day are:

- A down payment of 10% of the lot price on the day of the lot draw if your name is selected
- The balance must be paid within 90 days
- If you fail to pay the balance within 90 days as required, you will forfeit your deposit and lose ownership of that lot, which will be placed back on the market
- Lots purchased in SunRidge are to be used for the construction of personal residences only

Do I have to pay GST on the purchase price of my lot?

Yes.

Are there any design guidelines or restrictions for the subdivision?

Yes. All of our residential communities are bound by design & development guidelines.

What happens to the lots that are not chosen in the draw?

Any remaining lots not sold following the lot draw will be offered for sale on a first come, first served basis.
